

Caroline Cowan

Caroline Cowan holds a Bachelor of Honor in Film from the prestigious Central Saint Martins College in London and is the director of numerous acclaimed short films and TV-series.

The premiere of Cowan's short Departure took place in 2007. Departure is a heart-gripping drama revolving around ten-year-old Vocho, who begs for money on the streets of Stockholm. One day he meets Agneta, a woman on disability pension who is about to jump off of a bridge. The film was very well-received and was nominated for 'Best Short Film' at the Venice Film Festival.

The year 2014 marked the release of Joy, a children's drama series both written and directed by Cowan. Joy offers a humorous and insightful look at contemporary life in Sweden told from the perspective of a bi-racial Swedish family. The series was nominated at the Prix Jeunesse, the world's oldest and most esteemed children's TV festival.

Cowan has also directed several episodes for the crime series Arne Dahl which has garnered great success both in its native Sweden and abroad.

Her latest project, the feature film Eva & Adam, premiered in August 2021 to great reviews.
