

Ludvig Lundström

Screenwriter Ludvig Lundström is an up-and-coming talent with an unusual amount of experience to his name. Despite his young age, Lundström has already worked with numerous Swedish production companies, sold and developed several of his own original ideas, and worked as storyline and episodic writer. He is especially drawn to suspenseful and psychological dramas depicting moral taboos with an element of dark humor.

Lundström started writing and creating his original ideas while still in law school. His work soon caught the eyes of production companies and he decided to pursue his true passion and become a full-time writer. In 2018-2019 Lundström studied screenwriting at the renowned Alma Löv Script Academy. He then went on and wrote on the show Dystopia which premiered in 2021 on Viaplay.

Lundström currently has several projects in development, including a feature film with Bahar Pars, and a dramedy TV series with writer Dennis Magnusson.

Filmography

Dystopia (TV Series) (Horror, Thriller) – Episode writer, Story

2021