

Sissela Nelander

The Swedish rising star screenwriter Sissela Nelander has a background in writing for theatre and web series. She has a Bachelor in Literary Studies and also attended the Literary Composition program at the renowned HDK-Valand-Academy of Art and Design. Nelander is currently studying screenwriting at the prestigious Stockholm Academy of Dramatic Arts.

In 2019 Nelander's play Hymn till Persefone was performed at the Paradiso Festival at Turteatern, and her subsequent production GUNNARMATERIALET saw its premiere in 2020 at the Arrival project in Gothenburg.

Together with her comedy group Oskönheter she co-created and wrote the web series Kollektivet, working with the production company ENT. Nelander has also, together with a script group, developed a TV series for the production company Splay with support from SFI.

Nelander is currently writing the screenplay for the adaptation of a hit Swedish novel, more details to be released soon.
